

Cespuglio de Gino

Cespuglio (bush) bears witness to the playful and futuristic experimentation of the late 1960s and to the utopian and optimistic current in vogue at the time. This table lamp makes the most of the transparency of acrylic (PMMA) by producing an unreal optical effect called the 'live edge': the light emphasizes the edges of the acrylic sheets, thereby intensifying their colour.

Author·s	Ennio Lucini
Year of creation	1968
Editor	Fratelli Guzzini
Typology	Lamp
Materials	PMMA, Electrical circuit, Metal
Colors	Silver, Yellow
Dimensions	31.5 cm ø Diameter 45
Inventory number	PLAS.0093
Status	Exhibited