

Junior

Kids

The authors of the famous Blow chair, this time address children with the Junior chair. The three designers use this chair to create a modular system of plastic components that can be assembled to create seats, tables and structures that let children's imaginations run wild. Its bright colours and light enough elements are also designed for older children to play with and reconfigure the objects as they wish. This product, which creates environments and is flexible in its functions, reveals the fun and versatile spirit of post-war Italian design.
