

Seggiolina Pop

Kids

The children's chair Seggiolina Pop, is part of the Me too collection, produced by Magis in 2004. Made from a single block of expanded polypropylene, it is extremely light (700 g) whilst being very robust, so that children can easily carry it. There being no angular edges or removable parts means it can be handled safely. To touch, the material resembles white polystyrene. This playful chair is available in a number of different colours and so is easily adaptable to both private and public use (crèches or schools).
